

POLICEMEN MUST APPEAR IN COURT

Judge Gilmer Issues Order
When Five Members of Force Fail to Appear.

"Police officers who make arrests on minor misdemeanor charges must appear in court the next morning or I will dismiss the charges against the defendants," angrily declared Judge Gilmer in city court Thursday morning when the five patrolmen who arrested four sailors Wednesday night on charges of intoxication failed to appear in court against the men.

"Here it is again. When the police make arrests the night before, they never show up in court unless they are called," exclaimed Deputy Pro. George A. Schick as he prepared to have the four sailors arraigned.

Patrolmen Pinter, Bloom, Kish, Kline and Adamski are the five patrolmen who arrested the four sailors, but they were not in court Thursday morning to testify against the defendants.

Two Sailors Appear.
Bloches of colored were on the faces and heads of Melton Gaston and J. H. Alton, two of the sailors.

"They certainly handle people pretty rough in this part of the country," Alton told the judge.

"One of the policemen hit me over the head and face with his club," he said, exhibiting several bumps and bruises about the head and face.

"Were you drunk?" the judge asked each of the four sailors.

"No, sir," each one answered.

"Then I'll dismiss the charges against you," replied Judge Gilmer, "and hereafter when arrests are made on minor misdemeanor charges, I will dismiss the defendants if the patrolmen making the arrests do not appear in court the next morning."

The four sailors are with the navy train, and were riding in an automobile Wednesday night when it collided with another machine. The arrest was made a few minutes after the collision.

TAXI DRIVER FRICK SERIOUSLY INJURED

Joseph Frick, a taxi driver living at 2010 Main st., Mishawaka, was seriously injured Wednesday night in front of Kable's restaurant, 106 N. Michigan st., when he cranked his machine while it was in gear.

The car started up at slow speed, jumped the curb and pinned Frick against the front of the restaurant, one of the large steel springs tearing a hole in his left leg, besides breaking the bone.

The streets were crowded at the time, and an immense throng quickly gathered. Frick was removed to the Epworth hospital in the police ambulance, in charge of Officers Laskowski, Luther and Tholander.

It was also announced at the hospital Thursday that only three of the four bullets lodged in the girl's body have been extracted. Formal charges will be filed against Morgan, who is being held at the county jail without bail, as soon as the permanent condition is determined.

JEWS CELEBRATE ROSH HASHANAH

Holiday Ushers in Year 5680.
Rabbi Minda Delivers
Sermon.

The formal closing of the Jewish festival of the new year, or Rosh Hashanah, took place at Temple Beth-El Thursday morning at 10 o'clock when Rabbi Albert G. Minda delivered an address on "Everyday Heroes." The holiday, which ushered in the year 5680, began at sunset Wednesday and continues until sunset Thursday, the orthodox Jews, however, observing two days.

In his sermon Thursday morning Rabbi Minda said in part: "In former days piety and divinity were regarded as aristocratic qualities. Only certain classes of men were spoken of as pious men. The saint in the cloister, the priest wearing the distinctive mark of the religious order, these and similar characters were looked upon as men to whom the qualities of the divine had particularly attached themselves. But like all our ideas and conceptions the idea as to who the divine and pious man is has become democratized and we have come to learn that divinity knows no class or position. We have come to learn that God's light may burn in the humble cottage as well as in the magnificent cathedral. That his spirit may manifest itself in the store or accounting room even as in the house of prayer. That the flame of love and sacrifice may set aglow the soul of the so-called layman even as much as of those who have given themselves over to the advancement of religion and the religious life."

Discusses Peace.
"Peace, the Tidings of the New Year" was the subject discussed by Rabbi Minda at the service Wednesday night. In his address he compared the conditions of the world at the time of the celebration of the new year last year with those this year and made a plea for peace in the industrial and commercial world.

Special music was rendered at both services by Miss Dora Hershe-nov. On Friday night the Sabbath of Repentance will be observed with appropriate services at the Temple at 7:30 o'clock.

MAY EMPLOY DEPUTY INCOME TAX COLLECTOR

A deputy income tax collector may soon be employed in this district for the purpose of checking the sale of articles subject to the proprietary stamp tax, Peter J. Krueger, district deputy, said Thursday morning.

All dealers whose goods subject to this tax, such as soaps, toilet articles, perfumes, etc., are found on the market without stamps will be subject to a severe penalty. The record of stamp sales at the post office and revenue offices of the district doesn't seem to be as large as it should be in comparison with the vast amount of taxable articles sold, thus necessitating the employment of a deputy to detect the deception or carelessness on the part of dealers.

C. A. Carlisle, county food administrator, has issued the following notice for the governing of the H. C. L. in St. Joseph county: "The watch word should be economy. Just as long as we continue our extravagance in consumption our failure in production, up will go and continue the high cost of living."

"This great problem does not originate and it does not continue with any particular class or kind of people, we are all in it and no one escapes. When we, as a people, make up our minds to break down the high cost of living it will break but it is an individual responsibility that includes you and me and every man and woman and child. "Stop waste, make every penny count, talk it, preach it, practice it and we will soon find an equitable fair basis."

TWO COMMISSIONERS ATTEND STATE MEET

Mart Brummitt and Edward Zeiler represented St. Joseph county at a meeting of the County Commissioners' Association of Indiana held Wednesday in Indianapolis. According to the commissioner there was considerable talk at the convention against the Townsend bill pending in congress. Many of the commissioners expressed themselves as opposed to the state highway commission bill enacted by the 1919 legislature on the ground that it took away local control and centered control in the state. The divided authority is thought to create too many difficulties in administration.

Arthur Wolf, county auditor, was in Indianapolis attending the hearing of the state tax board commission Wednesday.

EXTENSIVE CLUB PROGRAM FOR Y. W.

Three Nights Each Week Will be Devoted to Special Activities.

The most extensive club program ever carried out at the Y. W. C. A. has been planned this year by Miss Gertrude Sykes, club secretary, for the entertainment and benefit of all business girls in the city, from factories, offices and stores. A special room in the association building has been set aside for the use of the club girls and is being redecorated and furnished for that purpose.

Miss Sykes plans to devote three nights a week to club work. Tuesday is to be "at home" night, when Miss Sykes will entertain the girls informally whether members of clubs or not. They may sew while a good book is being read to them, make fudge, popcorn, dance, sing and have a good time generally.

Thursday is to be club night. There are now five clubs in existence, the Quadrangle and L. U. H. O. clubs, whose members comprise a miscellaneous group of business girls, the Kresge club, composed of girls employed at the Kresge five and ten cent store, the Manna Loaf club of the South Bend watch factory, and the Blue Triangle reserves, who are the patriotic league girls who drilled last year.

A most extensive program has been arranged for club night. At 6:20 o'clock supper will be served; from 6:45 to 7:30 will be joy hour, when there will be special stunts, club songs, and games in the gymnasium; from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock Miss Sykes will give a series of 10 talks on "The Girl Herself"; from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock there will be classes in dramatics, sewing, painting, Bible study, and Y. W. C. A. history; the Kresge girls will have orchestra practice and the Blue Triangle reserves will have setting up exercises drill and games or basketball in the gymnasium; two nights a month from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock the clubs will all meet together one night for a party and once to hear an outside speaker, the remaining two nights being given over to individual club meetings.

Open house is to be observed at the association building following Sunday afternoon teas. At this time the girls may bring their gentlemen friends, a supper will be served, with only a small fee charged, and the evening will be spent informally.

WANTED—ONE OF THESE TO SAVE BOARD BILLS

The absent minded one entered one of Kable's restaurants, took a seat at the long counter and ordered "Ham and..." coffee and pie. The counter boy placed a glass of water and the necessary utensils in front of him and disappeared kitchen-ward with the order. The absent minded one had already buried his nose in the Wednesday edition of The News-Times. Five minutes elapsed. The absent minded one looked up, reached for the water glass, drank deeply, took the check of the man next to him, paid it at the cashier's desk and walked out.

LOCAL ELECTRIC CO. IS ORDERED TO DISREGARD CLAUSE IN FORM ORDERS

The public service commission has issued an order directing "all Interurban carriers in Indiana to cease and desist from applying classification rates to freight moving between points in Indiana higher than the ratings contemporaneously in effect on steam railroads between the points in Indiana."

The commission has also ordered the Northern Indiana Gas and Electric Co. to disregard temporarily the depreciation clause in the form orders issued in cases involving gas, electricity and heat rates at their South Bend, Mishawaka, Fort Wayne, Crawfordsville and Lafayette stations.

The abandoned part of the former orders provided for the establishment of a depreciation fund, payment or depreciation expenses out of the fund; advised the investment of the fund in high grade securities and permitted borrowing from the fund under certain safeguarded conditions.

The supplemental order issued Tuesday says that the change was "due to a continuation of unusually high operating costs and the failure of the company at its various plants to realize the net income which was at the time of the respective hearings, and it is believed that a hardship will be worked if the company is required to set aside in cash the depreciation fund as provided by the owners."

PRICES VARY ON PUBLIC MARKET

Poor Quality of Produce is Offered at Reduced
Prices.

The South Bend market saw the usual number of women, children, babies, go-carts and baskets, each woman lugging away a basket filled to overflowing with vegetables Thursday morning.

While prices in general at the market averaged lower than the city groceries, the quality of the articles for sale was much lower. Potatoes were being sold at the market that were very little over one inch in diameter. Small apples were being bought by the customers and melons that were very small in size seemed to find plenty of customers.

Cabbage was selling for three cents a pound, two cents cheaper per pound than the price quoted in one grocery store. Onions were selling at $2 a bushel. Celery sold at 25 cents a dozen, carrots at 35 cents a dozen bunches. Each bunch averaged from two to three pounds. Lettuce was selling at 10 cents a pound with tomatoes priced at $1.30 per bushel or four pounds for 10 cents.

Green peppers sold at 10 cents a dozen with pointons at $1 per bushel. Pumpkins averaging from 15 to 25 pounds were sold at from 10 to 20 cents. Apples were bringing $2 a bushel and grapes sold at 30 cents per basket weighing from five to six pounds. Cucumbers sold at 30 cents a dozen and $2 a bushel and string beans at 12 cents per pound.

Ohioans Find Varied Tasks for 'Coppers'

STUBENVILLE, Ohio, Sept. 25.—With arrests showing a reduction from 400 to 60 in a month because of prohibition, the question of what to do with the policemen is the burning question here. Citizens understanding the situation have sought out the idle cops for different odd jobs. Desk records at the police station show that there were eleven calls from women who wanted their automobiles cranked, one from a business man who wished three mice killed, three calls from women who wanted dead rats buried, one call to exterminate a swarm of bugs about an arc light, and four calls from women shoppers who mislaid their purses.
